

Where did Feb go

Published 09 March 2010

Yep, it's been a strange month, We were tempted (but not for long) to journey to the Arran Islands of the west coast of Galway, Ireland. But since it was very windy and cold we left it to the younger fitter element to pay tribute to Father Ted. To take a look at the strange antics they get up click on to the picture of the site, and yes it's one of ours. We will recreate Craggy Island for a weekend in February. Come as your favourite Character. For one weekend each year, the stunning isle of Inis Mor becomes Craggy Island. Includes Lovely Girls' Competition, Buckaroo Speed Dating, World's biggest Cup of Tea and Craggy Cup. God bless us all! The kettle is on and organisers are gearing up for Ted Fest IV, which after the mammoth success of Ted Fest I, II & III is going to be a week long celebration, with events taking place country-wide. It's time to honour Dermot Morgan whose 13th anniversary falls on the 28th February.
