

November 2010

Published 14 December 2010

It's like walking in to a freezer, that's what the team said when the temperature outside hit a minus 8.Â We have lot's of electronics that normally keep our office quite toasty but the past few weeks the weather has left our office plant (Gertrude Brudenbecker) looking very chilled in the non hip sense. However it has been another busy month, we have just launched Jasennia, a fab site for artistic creations such as jewellery, scarves, and mosaic tables, pictures and mirrors. Please visit the jasennia website, your gonna luvvit. I am going to try and put something interesting from the web on this page every month, this month you have just got to watch this you tube link, it makes me smile every time I watch it. Anyway have a great Xmas and New year.TCRM

