

October 2009

Published 11 November 2010

It's been another great month for us but the big news must be the release of Windows 7, we at TCRM have been using the beta version for about six months, Andrea says it's "Lush", I think I know what she means. Anyway Cnet says "Adoption of Windows 7 continues to grow, with the weeks-old operating system accounting for 4 percent of PCs accessing the Web over the past weekend, according to Net Applications."

