This month's News is short due to being really busy but today (Friday 31st July) is the sixteenth year of one of the most important appreciation days of the year, it is, wait for it, SysAdmin Day. What is SysAdmin day I hear you ask? I will now take a quote from <http://sysadminday.com/>, the definitive site on this important day. "Wait; what exactly is SysAdmin Day? Oh, it's only the single greatest 24 hours on the planet; and pretty much the most important holiday of the year. It's also the perfect opportunity to pay tribute to the heroic men and women who, come rain or shine, prevent disasters, keep IT secure and put out tech fires left and right." At this point, you may be thinking, "Great. I get it. My SysAdmin is a rock star. But now what?" Glad you asked! Proper observation of SysAdmin Day includes (but is not limited to): Cake & Ice cream; Pizza; Cards; Gifts; Words of gratitude; Custom t-shirts celebrating the epic greatness of your SysAdmin(s); Balloons; Streamers; Confetti Feel free to spread the news. Have a good month.
